

A Very Small Garden Creature in Willoughby. Ian Foster.

Echidnas are sometimes known as spiny anteaters.
Their young are called “puggles”. Helen Deller.

See what too much fertiliser can do! Dot Theeboom.

The gnome which lives in my garden. Wendy Tufts.

The hedgehog in my garden. Made by my daughter. Jan Bouveng.

Frog playing peek-a-boo. Josephine Lindquist.

The king of parrots. Graham Jackson.

Deborah Drummond.

Thumper the wallaby who comes to our garden every dawn and dusk.
Vicki Bell.

Many different insects find a flowering grass tree irresistible just as I find the challenge irresistible of photographing anything in flight.

Ross Davey.

Marianne Reich.

Sculpture by the Sea. Ann Louise Cameron.

Wally the water monitor. Ian Moon.

Waiting for a bald head to land on. Graham Nicholson