Free cochlear implant info session

Hearing loss affecting your life?

If you struggle to hear on the phone or in crowded places, even while wearing your hearing aids, then you could benefit from a cochlear implant.

Not-for-profit organisation NextSense is hosting a free virtual information session about cochlear implants on Monday 22 September 11am – 12pm (AEDT), where you'll discover how you could benefit from a cochlear implant and learn about the journey from a recipient.

About this session

Shannon Culley

Elizabeth Ellis

In the session, you will:

- learn about how cochlear implants are different to hearing aids
- hear firsthand from a cochlear implant recipient
- have the chance to ask questions in real time

There will be a Q&A session at the end of the session where you can ask both the recipient and our qualified Audiologist any questions. Family and friends are welcome to attend.

Event details

When: Monday 22 September 11am – 12pm (AEDT)

Cost: Free

Bookings are essential - once you have registered, you will be provided with a link to join the virtual session.

Why does hearing loss need to be addressed?

Hearing loss is the number one, biggest modifiable risk for dementia in middle age. As hearing deteriorates and people withdraw from social activities, wellbeing and mental health are at risk.
