From The Editors Desk

I asked Google the question: Is Probus good for Seniors?

Yes, Probus is considered very good for seniors because it offers retirees and semi-retirees a supportive environment for social connection, new friendships, hobbies, and activities, which combats social isolation and promotes active engagement in their communities. By providing a range of outings, trips, and social events, Probus helps seniors stay mentally and physically active while enjoying the fellowship of new friends in retirement.
